A - Information about the policy

Make sure the policy meets your needs

Taking out a Smart Funds Policy is an important decision. This document provides you with information to help you fully understand the details of the contract you're entering into. We recommend you read it carefully before taking out your policy.

A Smart Funds policy is a single premium investment policy. The policy provides a death benefit equal to 100.1% of the encashment value, based on the next day that unit prices are calculated after we receive written notice of death. If there are two lives insured, the death benefit amount is payable on the death of the last to die of the two lives insured. If we receive notice of death before the fifth policy anniversary and provided the life insured or in the case of a joint life policy at least one life insured is aged under 75 at the policy start date, then the death benefit payable will be at least equal to the total premiums paid less an adjustment to take account of any previous part encashments.

WARNING: If you propose to take out this policy in complete or partial replacement of an existing policy, please take special care to satisfy yourself that this policy meets your needs. In particular, please make sure that you are aware of the financial consequences of replacing your existing policy. If you are in doubt about this, please contact your insurer or insurance intermediary.

If the information in this document differs from the policy conditions, the policy conditions will apply.

What happens if you want to cash in the policy early?

Cashing in the policy

You can cash in part or all of your policy at any time. The amount you get will be based on the value of the units linked to your policy at that time less any early encashment charge. Early encashment charges apply for the first five years of your policy. The early encashment charge is 5% for the first three years, 3% in the fourth year and 2% in the fifth year.

If you require, the Smart Funds policy can provide a regular income. The income is paid by making regular part encashments from your policy.

Important:
If you choose to encash the policy, the value payable may be less than the amount of premiums paid.

What are the projected benefits under the policy?

Important:

This illustration assumes an investment return of 6.0% per annum. This rate is for illustration purposes only and is not guaranteed. Actual investment growth will depend on the performance of the underlying investments and may be more or less than illustrated.

Illustrative table of projected benefits and charges:

Year	A Total amount of premiums paid to date	B Projected investment growth to date	C Projected expenses and charges to date	D Taxation to date	E Projected policy value after taxation
	€	€	€	€	€
1	500,000	29,539	36,145	0	493,394
2	500,000	60,483	42,420	6,864	511,199
3	500,000	92,900	48,992	16,685	527,222
4	500,000	126,859	45,878	30,773	550,209
5	500,000	162,435	48,090	43,451	570,894

The table above shows the projected benefits under the policy. In each year:

	Column A	total amount of premiums paid into the policy to date
+	Column B	projected investment growth to date
-	Column C	projected expenses and charges to date
-	Column D	projected taxation paid and arising to date
=	Column E	projected policy value after payment of taxation

The deductions for expenses and charges shown in Column C have the same effect as reducing the assumed investment growth from 6.0% to 4.5%.

The illustration(s) assume that the single premium is invested in the following funds in the percentages shown:

Fund	% Invested
Medium Risk - Goodbody Dividend Income 4 (Extra 0.25%)	33.33%
Medium Risk - iFunds 4 (Extra 0.15%)	33.33%
Medium Risk - PRIME 4	33.34%

What intermediary and sales remuneration is payable?

Year	Premium payable in that year	Projected total intermediary and sales remuneration payable in that year
1	500,000	16,161
2	0	1,324
3	0	1,387
4	0	1,453
5	0	1,522

Are returns guaranteed and can the premium be reviewed?

Returns from the policy are not guaranteed. The future policy value will be determined based on how the investment funds you select to invest in perform.

Can the policy be cancelled or amended by the insurer?

New Ireland can cancel your Non Standard Charges policy if required by applicable law, such as financial crime law.

New Ireland may amend your policy terms to take account of any changes in law such as tax law.

New Ireland may also make changes to its charging structure from time to time. We'll let you know if we do.

Information on taxation issues

The following is a general summary of tax as it applies to your policy, based on our understanding of tax law. As every case is different, we recommend that you discuss tax implications with your tax advisor.

The premiums payable under the policy do not qualify for tax relief.

The payment of death benefit is a chargeable tax event. The rate of tax is currently 38% (Jan 2026) and is payable on any amount your savings have grown by (the value of your policy at the time tax is due less premiums paid). Exit tax due on the policy on death may be offset against Capital Acquisitions Tax arising.

If you encash your policy whether in part or in full, any amount payable may be subject to an exit tax of 38% (Jan 2026). Exit tax is payable on any amount your savings have grown by (the value of your policy at the time tax is due less premiums paid, taking into account the amount you are seeking to encash).

Any exit tax due will be deducted by New Ireland and paid to Revenue.

If you assign your policy it may give rise to a tax liability. Assignments to a bank or building society do not however give rise to tax.

Under the Finance Act 2007, your policy will be taxed when a chargeable tax event takes place. As an example, a chargeable tax event arises every 8 years and at that time your policy value will be adjusted for tax. For full details of chargeable events, please refer to your policy conditions or contact your Financial Broker null.

Additional information about the policy

Policy conditions

Your policy conditions set out the rules and terms that apply to your policy.

Term of the policy

A Smart Funds policy does not have a fixed term. This means that you can pay premiums or leave your money invested for as long as you choose. The policy will end if the policy value reduces to zero or we pay a death benefit under the policy.

About unit funds

Smart Funds policies are unit-linked investment policies. This means that the premiums (less any charges due) are invested in your choice of New Ireland's unit-linked investment funds. The policy value at any time depends on the performance of those unit-linked investment funds.

The range of New Ireland unit-linked investment funds available to you includes:

- Managed funds that invest in a selection of stocks and shares (equities), both in Ireland and overseas, together with a selection of government securities (gilts), property and cash.
- Specialist funds that concentrate on single asset types or geographical regions.
- Index funds that aim to track the performance of leading stock markets worldwide.

Your insurance advisor will be able to help you choose the funds that best suit your needs.

You can switch between any of the New Ireland unit linked investment funds available to you. Your first six switches in a given policy year are free of charge. After that, there is a switching charge (currently €25 per switch). Switching does not create a tax liability.

If you have second thoughts

If you feel that the Smart Funds policy does not suit your needs, you can cancel it by writing to us within 30 days of us issuing the policy documents to you. Once we receive your request within the 30 days, we'll cancel your policy and refund any single premium you paid, less any reduction in value due to a drop in unit prices (market movements) since the policy started.

Legislation governing the contract

The laws of Ireland govern the contract and the Irish courts have exclusive jurisdiction.

If you have a problem or complaint

New Ireland will try to resolve any complaints fully to your satisfaction.

Complaints and disputes arising in connection with your policy that cannot be resolved within the Company's internal complaints handling procedure may be referred to the Financial Services and Pensions Ombudsman. You can find details of the service provided by the Financial Services and Pensions Ombudsman from their website fspo.ie or from New Ireland.

B - Information on service fee

Occasionally policyholders have an arrangement with their insurance advisor which involves the payment of a service fee to the advisor. Your advisor should enter details of any such arrangement here:
