Key thoughts when planning your retirement

Pinpoint WEALTH

Can you rely on the State Pension?

The maximum rate of State Contributory Pension is currently worth about €1,300 a month (Citizens Information Board, January 2026). It's helpful but it's not going to give you a comfortable life on its own. The State Pension is funded by taxes paid by Ireland's workforce. But Ireland's population is ageing, so in the future there will be more retirees sharing a smaller pot. In short, you should not rely on the State to provide your pension. The only way to ensure the retirement you want is to take ownership of it now.

You're never too young or old to start

You can start a pension at any time. The older you are the bigger the contribution you will have to make to guarantee a healthy retirement fund. Obviously, it helps to start early. The sooner you start making pension contributions the better off you will be when you finally retire.

How much to save?

This is, perhaps, the single most important consideration. Of course, it's up to you but it usually depends on these main factors - when you would like to retire, what lifestyle you would like in retirement and how much can you afford to save. This may vary for lots of reasons throughout your working life.

A pension is the most tax efficient way to save

The government encourages us to save for our future by offering valuable tax relief on retirement funds. Other forms of saving, like bank accounts or savings plans, do not attract such incentives.

The table below shows the actual cost of pension contributions when tax relief is taken into account. As you can see it is significantly lower.

Your monthly pension contribution	Less tax relief	Actual cost to you
€200	40% tax relief*	€120
€200	20% tax relief*	€160

* Based on income tax rates as at January 2026. Source: Revenue.ie. These rates may change in the future.

WARNING: If you invest in this product you may lose some or all of the money you invest.

What's your attitude towards risk?

All of your pension contributions will be invested in an investment fund or a combination of investment funds, with a view to growing your retirement pot. How that money is invested depends on how much risk you are prepared to accept. Everyone's attitude to risk is different.

Choosing your own investment strategy will involve deciding on the level of return you are looking for and balancing it against the level of risk you are comfortable with. This is called your Risk Profile.

As a general rule of thumb, the further you are from retirement, the more adventurous you can be with your investment choices. There are a wide range of investment solutions depending on the level of investment risk that you are comfortable with.

What happens when I retire?

On retirement you can take a cash lump sum that is tax free, subject to Revenue limits. You'll want the remainder of your retirement fund to see you through the rest of your life, so it's important to consider options that will suit your personal circumstances best.

There are two main choices:

(i) An income for life (Annuity)

This is a secure retirement option that provides a steady cash flow until you die. The benefit dies with you and you can't pass it on to your estate.

(ii) A retirement fund you can control (ARF)

An Approved Retirement Fund (ARF) gives you extra control over your pension fund when you retire. Basically, you continue to invest your retirement fund and draw down a regular income at the same time.

The ARF is yours to invest and budget as you see fit (making sure it doesn't run out) and you can pass it on to your estate when you die.

WARNING: The value of your investment may go down as well as up.
WARNING: If you invest in this product you may lose some or all of the money you invest.
WARNING: The income you earn from this investment may go down as well as up.

Overview of your pension needs

It's important to plan for your financial future. A pension/PRSA is one of the best ways you can plan for that future. They are long-term retirement savings vehicles that allow you put money aside in a tax-efficient method. Of course, the earlier you start saving for your retirement the better. But it's never too late to start.

This report is designed to provide you with some help in determining the amount you need to put aside to fund your retirement. This report is for illustrative purposes only and is not an offer of contract. You should discuss the findings in this report with your financial advisor before making any decisions.

IMPORTANT NOTES

We have made the following assumptions;

This illustration is for a regular contribution pension plan / PRSA whose primary purpose is to provide an income and/or lump sum in retirement.

The details used in this calculation are based on information provided by you.

We have allowed for inflation of your target retirement income of 3% per annum between now and your retirement age.

Any Defined Benefit income is assumed to increase at 3% per annum between now and your retirement age.

If you qualify for the State Pension (Contributory), this is assumed to be €299.30 per week as at January 2026 and is assumed to increase at 3% per annum between now and your retirement age.

If your target retirement age is lower than the age at which the State Pension (Contributory) commences (66) the calculations allow for funding for this gap, in addition to the cost of the annuity.

A term to retirement of 19 years and 8 months.

Your monthly contributions are assumed to increase by 3% each year up until your retirement age.

We have assumed a Gross Investment Return of 5.18% per annum on your contributions. This is not a forecast because the value of your investment may grow at a faster or slower rate than assumed and the value of your investment may be expected to fall from time to time as well as rise.

We have assumed charges of 5% on all regular contributions; 0% on all single contributions; and an annual management charge of 1%. No surrender penalties or other charges have been assumed.

On retirement you purchase an annuity which escalates at 2% each year, has a 5-year guarantee and is payable monthly in advance. The annuity rate assumes no spouse's pension. The actual annuity rate will depend on the selection of dependant's pension, guaranteed period and the escalation rate, as well as interest rates prevailing when the annuity is purchased. For policies where the remaining term to retirement age is greater than or equal to 5 years the annuity rate used in the illustration is a long-term average rate. Where the remaining term to retirement age is less than 5 years current market annuity rates are used in the illustration. The actual annuity rate at retirement is likely to differ from the annuity rate used in the illustration above.

All income figures are in today's money and allow for an inflation rate of 3% per annum.

These assumptions and figures quoted are for illustrative purposes only and are not an offer of contract.

The calculations are in line with Zurich Life's Understanding of Guidelines issued by the Society of Actuaries in Ireland (Actuarial Standard of Practice Pen-12 Version 1.11) and may change in the future.

What's happening in the markets?

August 2026

Global equity markets produced mixed returns in June as leadership broadened beyond the largest technology stocks. Weakness among mega-cap technology names weighed on overall performance, while cyclical and value sectors delivered stronger gains. European equities outperformed most developed markets in local currency terms, benefiting from easing inflation expectations and improved investor sentiment. By contrast, US large-cap indices and Asia-Pacific markets generated more subdued returns. Commodity markets also reflected changing geopolitical conditions. Oil prices fell sharply after the US and Iran reached a memorandum of understanding that reopened the Strait of Hormuz, easing fears of supply disruptions. Both Brent and WTI crude oil declined over the month, while gold weakened as a stronger US dollar and expectations of higher Federal Reserve interest rates reduced demand.

Cash

Central banks remained a key focus for investors during June. The European Central Bank increased interest rates by 0.25%, marking the first hike since 2023, as policymakers continued to address persistent inflation, particularly from higher energy costs. Meanwhile, the Federal Reserve left rates unchanged at 3.5%–3.75%, though revised forecasts suggested borrowing costs could rise further, leading markets to anticipate a quarter-point increase by October. Bond markets moved as they digested several economic data releases, with the US 10-year Treasury yield closing at 4.47%, while Germany's 10-year Bund yield fell by roughly 8 basis points.

The euro ended the month at 1.141 against the US dollar, down from 1.166.

Bonds

Central banks remained a key focus for investors during June. The European Central Bank increased interest rates by 0.25%, marking the first hike since 2023, as policymakers continued to address persistent inflation, particularly from higher energy costs. Meanwhile, the Federal Reserve left rates unchanged at 3.5%–3.75%, though revised forecasts suggested borrowing costs could rise further, leading markets to anticipate a quarter-point increase by October. Bond markets moved as they digested several economic data releases, with the US 10-year Treasury yield closing at 4.47%, while Germany's 10-year Bund yield fell by roughly 8 basis points.

Equity

Global equity markets delivered mixed returns in June, with performance becoming less concentrated in technology stocks. Following strong gains in AI-related chipmakers and infrastructure companies over recent months, investor sentiment became more cautious, resulting in heightened market volatility. Large 'hyperscaler' technology firms weakened as concerns grew over the potential returns from significant AI investment. Market strength broadened across other sectors. In Euro terms, Health Care gained 7.4% and Financials advanced 4.7%, while Communication Services returned -6.0%. Eurozone equities outperformed most developed markets, helped by lower oil prices and easing inflation pressures.

Zurich Life Risk Profiler - Your Answers

Pinpoint WEALTH

Risk Profile 4 - Medium risk

Your answers suggest that your risk appetite is Risk Profile 4. This means that you are likely to accept significant risk in return for the potential for good investment gains over the longer term. You accept there will be significant fluctuations in the value of your investment, particularly over the shorter term. However, you will want to limit the amount of your money held in more risky investments. Funds with a Risk Profile of 4 may invest in a mix of equities (company shares), and fixed interest investments such as government bonds and corporate bonds (bonds issued by companies).

Fund Description

The Active Fixed Income Fund is an actively managed bond fund. It primarily invests in bonds issued by eurozone governments and bond-based financial instruments. It may also invest in supranational bonds and other investment grade corporate and non-sovereign bonds. The investment parameters allow for up to 30% of the fund to be invested overseas with the core invested in eurozone bonds. Advice PRSA

Advice PRSA (Rebate)

This Preliminary Disclosure Certificate should be read in conjunction with the accompanying Fund Guide.

Introduction

This is a Preliminary Disclosure Certificate for a Non-Standard Personal Retirement Savings Account (PRSA).

The Target Market for this product is individuals who wish to save in a tax efficient manner to provide an income and/or tax free lump sum when they retire, and who do not expect to need access to the money invested until they retire. This Preliminary Disclosure Certificate should be read in conjunction with the accompanying Fund Guide.

1. Description of your PRSA

A. Benefits

Retirement Benefits

You may retire at any time from your 60th birthday to your 75th birthday, providing that you comply with the relevant legislation at the time. You will have a choice as to the form in which your retirement benefits can be taken, and the different available types of benefit are described below. You can continue making contributions to your PRSA until your 75th birthday.

Pension

A pension is an income that is payable to you for life. It is usually paid monthly or yearly, it can increase annually to keep pace with inflation, and it can be guaranteed to be paid for a certain number of years - normally five years and no greater than ten years - and for life thereafter. Please note that where a guaranteed period exists, in the event of death, the pension can be assigned (for the remainder of the guaranteed period) in the distribution of the estate.

Spouse's pension

You can purchase a pension that will be paid to your spouse in the event of your death after you have retired. This pension can be no greater than the pension that is payable to you and described above. If your spouse dies before you do, no spouse's pension will be payable.

Pension lump sum

Upon your retirement, you may have an immediate need for a lump sum; your PRSA can provide you with a pension lump sum. The maximum amount of the lump sum and the tax treatment are described in further detail in the section on Tax.

Taxable lump sum

You can take your retirement proceeds as a taxable lump sum in lieu of purchasing a pension or ARF Taxable lump sum payments are subject to marginal rate income tax.

Approved Retirement Fund

An Approved Retirement Fund (ARF) is an investment that lets you control your retirement income. You can invest it in a wide range of different assets and can draw whatever income you need from it whenever you need it.

Early retirement

If you are an employee or your occupation is one in which persons customarily retire before the age of 60, you may be able to take your retirement benefits earlier than your 60th birthday, but no earlier than your 50th birthday. If you are a member of an Occupational or Statutory Pension Scheme and make Additional Voluntary Contributions (AVCs) to your PRSA, you must wait until you retire under the rules of the pension scheme before you can draw any benefits from the fund built up by the AVCs made to this PRSA. For the purposes of early retirement, an employee is a person that works under a contract of employment, including civil servants. The retirement benefits described above are also available on early retirement.

Ill-health retirement

If you become permanently incapable through infirmity of mind or body of carrying on your own occupation or any other occupation that you are trained or fitted for, you can retire on ill-health grounds. Before you can take ill-health retirement, you must provide us with appropriate evidence that supports your ill-health claim. The retirement benefits described above are also available on ill-health retirement.

Death-in-service benefits

If you die before retirement, the PRSA assets can be used to provide a pension for your spouse or can be paid as a lump sum to your estate. The spouse's pension can be no greater than the pension that would have been payable to you on retirement.

Refund

If the value of your PRSA does not exceed €650 and you have not made any contributions for at least two years, we can pay the PRSA assets to you. At least three months before this happens, you will receive a written statement from us advising you to make further contributions or transfer your PRSA to another PRSA or pension arrangement. This refund is liable to income tax.

Vested PRSA

If you decide to take a lump-sum from your PRSA you can elect to retain your assets within your PRSA, it is then known as a Vested PRSA. A Vested PRSA is similar to an ARF in that it allows you control your income in retirement. You can remain invested in range of funds and can draw income from it whenever you need.

B. Investment Strategy

You can choose to follow one of the investment strategies set out below.

i. Default Investment Strategy

A Default Investment Strategy (DIS) is designed to fulfil the reasonable expectations of a typical investor for the purposes of saving for retirement. The DIS will be chosen for you if you make no choice about your investment preference. This DIS invests contributions in a PRSA fund with a reward-risk profile that is suitable to the number of years remaining to your selected retirement date. With a longer period to retirement, we believe that you should invest in PRSA funds with the potential for higher returns, even though these funds are more inherently risky. As you approach retirement, however, we recommend that your PRSA is moved into a more stable investment to protect the investment performance achieved to date.

If you intend to invest your retirement proceeds in an ARF, your contributions are directed according to the table below:

Number of years to retirement	Fund that contributions are invested in
At least 25	Dynamic Fund
At least 15, but less than 25	Performance Fund
Less than 15	Balanced Fund

Five years before your selected retirement date, monies invested in the Dynamic and Performance Funds will be gradually switched into the Balanced Fund. By your selected retirement date, your PRSA will be invested 100% in the Balanced Fund; this PRSA Fund is typical of the type of fund often used by ARFs.

If you intend to purchase an annuity with your retirement proceeds, your contributions are directed according to the table below:

Number of years to retirement	Fund that contributions are invested in
At least 25	Dynamic Fund
At least 15, but less than 25	Performance Fund
At least 5, but less than 15	Balanced Fund
Less than 5	Active Fixed Income Fund

Five years before your selected retirement date, monies invested in the Dynamic, Performance and Balanced Funds will be gradually switched into the Active Fixed Income Fund. By your selected retirement date, your PRSA will be invested 100% in the Active Fixed Income Fund. Because of the investments held by the Active Fixed Income Fund, its price is expected to fall and rise in line with long-term interest rates and, therefore, in line with the cost of buying an annuity; by ensuring that your PRSA is 100% invested in this fund at retirement, you are somewhat protected against the possibility of a sudden rise in the price of annuities.

Traditionally, equities - that is, stocks and shares - have produced higher returns than bonds have; this outperformance has come, however, at the price of greater unpredictability. The greater unpredictability of equities is shown in the way share prices fluctuate daily, while the prices of bonds tend to be more stable. The more equities held by your PRSA, therefore, the more the value of your PRSA can be expected to vary from day to day and year to year.

The table below shows how the four funds included in the Default Investment Strategy have performed over a recent fifteen, ten and five year period.

	Dynamic Fund %	Performance Fund %	Balanced Fund %	Active Fixed Income Fund %
Indicative Equity Content	75%-100%	65%-90%	50%-75%	0%
Average yearly return (over 15 years)	11.32%	10.56%	9.16%	2.63%
Average yearly return (over 10 years)	11.67%	10.66%	8.59%	-0.80%
Average yearly return (over 5 years)	9.71%	8.71%	6.84%	-1.88%
Standard Deviation of yearly returns (over 10 years)	14.01%	12.73%	10.50%	5.56%
Largest 3-month fall	27.44%	25.55%	22.23%	9.56%

Source: Zurich Life. All dates to 01/07/2026. Annual management fees apply. The fund growth shown above is before the full annual management charge is applied on your policy. Note: Based on performance over the periods 01/07/2011 to 01/07/2026; 01/07/2016 to 01/07/2026; and 01/07/2021 to 01/07/2026. The return is based on an investment in the fund and does not represent the return achieved by individual policies linked to the fund.

The standard deviation of returns is a measure of how much the return varied about the average over the period. A fund with a low standard deviation can be expected to return small gains and losses, while a fund with a high standard deviation is more likely to be subject to larger rises and falls. The standard deviation of a fund is often used as a measure of the risk associated with the fund.

The above table also shows the largest fall over a 3-month period experienced by each fund since their inception. As can be seen, the funds with the highest equity content displayed the largest falls.

For more details on our fund range, please see the PRSA Funds section in the separate Fund Guide.

Zurich's range of investment funds

Zurich's range of funds allows you to choose the reward-risk profile of your PRSA fund. You can invest in any of the PRSA funds described in the Zurich Fund Guide - see the 'PRSA Funds' section - and you can change the mix of funds by switching between them at any time; the first four switches in a year are free of charge.

Reviewing your policy and your investment options

It is important that you regularly review whether the investment options you have selected and any premium you are paying into your policy remain appropriate for you. Your financial circumstances may change over time and this may impact the suitability of your policy and the options you have selected. For example, you may have a lower or higher appetite for risk, you may have a longer or shorter investment time horizon or your taxation or earnings situation may have changed. If you wish to review the appropriateness of your investment options, the premium you are paying into this policy, or any other aspect of your policy, you should contact your financial advisor.

C. Tax

Contributions

Income-tax relief is available on the contributions that you make to a PRSA. If your contributions are deducted directly from your salary, you obtain this relief immediately; otherwise, you need to apply to the Revenue Commissioners. The maximum amount of contributions, as a proportion of annual net relevant earnings, that you can make in a year and receive full tax relief on is set out in the table below. Relevant earnings are any remuneration from an office or employment or income from a trade or profession chargeable to tax; net relevant earnings are relevant earnings less losses, capital allowances, and certain payments that reduce your income for tax purposes, such as tax-effective covenants.

Age	Maximum contributions
Under 30	15%
30 to 39	20%
40 to 49	25%
50 to 54	30%†
55 to 59	35%
60 and over	40%

† The 30% limit applies to contributions, other than AVCs, of certain categories of person that typically retire earlier than usual, such as athletes, jockeys, etc., who are aged less than 55.

For the purposes of calculating the maximum tax relief, annual net relevant earnings are currently limited to €115,000.

Any contributions that you make to a personal pension or an Occupational or Statutory Pension Scheme are included in the above limits. Contributions made by your employer to your PRSA, if any, are not limited by the above table and do not have an impact on your ability to contribute to a PRSA.

You may also elect to apply your contribution to the preceding tax year, provided payment is made by 31st October. Extended payment and return filing dates apply if made via Revenue Online Services.

Contributions paid in any year in excess of the maximum tax-deductible contribution may be carried forward and claimed in future years, subject to the annual limit for those years. Similarly, contributions paid while out of the workforce may be carried forward and claimed against future earnings on return to paid employment, subject to the annual limits.

If you belong to an Occupational or Statutory Pension Scheme, the only contributions to a PRSA that you can receive tax relief on are AVCs. If you are not in the workforce, you will not be able to receive tax relief.

Investment

Any investment growth associated with the Zurich Life PRSA funds are exempt from capital gains tax and income tax. Withholding taxes, however, may be deducted at source from dividends and other income arising out of investments in certain countries; in most cases, these withholding taxes can be reclaimed; where they cannot be reclaimed, the income of the funds will be reduced by these taxes.

Benefits

Any payments - except those detailed below - that you receive from your PRSA will be liable to income tax. In certain circumstances, we are obliged to deduct these taxes and pass them on to the Revenue Commissioners before you receive your benefit.

The lump sum available to you on retirement is 25% of the value of your PRSA. If you have made AVCs, however, the available tax-free lump sum derived from them is subject to the rules of the relevant pension scheme; it will usually be based on your service and earnings at retirement and will not exceed 1.5 times your earnings.

After taking your lump sum, you can use your remaining funds to do one or more of the following:

- Purchase an Annuity
- Invest in an Approved Retirement Fund
- Remain in a Vested PRSA

If you invest in an ARF or if you remain in a Vested PRSA we will deduct income tax, the Universal Social Charge and PRSI from all subsequent deductions, if applicable. From the year you turn 61 the minimum withdrawal you must make is 4% of the value of the fund. From the year you turn 71 this increases to 5% of the value of the fund. If your total fund value is over €2 million the minimum withdrawal increases to 6%.

If you have not already taken your retirement benefits from your PRSA on or before your 75th Birthday, it will automatically become vested.

If you die before drawing any retirement benefits, the lump-sum death benefit will not be liable to income tax and will be paid to your estate; inheritance tax, however, will still apply.

If you die after drawing your retirement benefits, any remaining funds in your PRSA - that is, after any lump sums have been paid out and any annuities or Approved Retirement Funds have been purchased - will be taxed in a similar way to how ARFs are taxed on death, as detailed in the table below.

Transfer on death to:	Income tax	Capital Acquisitions Tax (CAT)
ARF of Spouse	No	No
Spouse	Yes	No
Child aged 21/21+	Yes 30%	No
Child aged under 21	No	Yes*
Others	Yes	Yes*
*The usual CAT thresholds apply.

Zurich Life will deduct any taxes from the death benefit as required of it by the Revenue Commissioners. Although any income that is later drawn from an ARF will be taxable as income, the transfer of assets from your PRSA to an ARF is not taxable.

Maximum Pension Fund And Tax-Free Lump Sum

There is a limit on the size of retirement funds and on the size of tax-free lump sum that can be taken at retirement. The standard fund threshold is currently €2.2 million. If your pension fund exceeds this at retirement, you will have to pay income tax (currently 40%) on the excess, in addition to the tax you would normally pay on your purchased retirement benefits. The maximum total tax-free lump sum that can be taken at retirement is currently €200,000.

This is a total lifetime limit, even if lump sums are taken at different times and from different pension arrangements. Retirement lump sums between €200,000 and €500,000 will be taxed at the standard rate.

Refund of contributions from a pension scheme

You may transfer a refund of contributions from an Occupational or Statutory Pension Scheme into your PRSA. Although refunds of contributions are usually liable to tax at the standard rate of income tax, you will not have to pay tax on the refund if it is transferred into your PRSA.

Transfer to and from other pension arrangements

You have the option of transferring the assets of your PRSA to another PRSA or a pension scheme, including one established outside Ireland, subject to such conditions as may be prescribed. These transfers of assets are not treated as benefit payments for the purposes of taxation.

The transfer of PRSA assets to overseas arrangements may have significant tax consequences. Zurich Life will apply taxation to the overseas transfer of PRSA assets where required to do so as per the prevailing pension legislation and Revenue guidance at the time of transfer.

Providing that the parties involved agree and the relevant legislation is complied with, your PRSA may receive transfers of assets from another PRSA or pension arrangement. These transfers of assets are not treated as contributions for the purposes of taxation.

D. Risk Factors

Investment

The prices of Zurich Life PRSA funds are not guaranteed and can fall as well as rise. This means that your PRSA can fall in value. If a benefit were payable after a fall in the value of your PRSA, you would receive a lower amount than you might have expected.

Traditionally, equities have shown the most volatility in value, which is usually equated with risk, although they have also tended to outperform other asset classes over the long-term. The higher the equity content of your PRSA assets, the more the value of your PRSA fund can be expected to fluctuate. If you cannot tolerate large swings in the value of your PRSA or the chance of a substantial drop in value, you should consider investing in funds that have a relatively low exposure to equities.

Taking benefits early

A PRSA is a long-term financial commitment. Except in exceptional circumstances described earlier in this certificate (under Refund in the section on Benefits on page 2), you will not be able to access monies invested in your PRSA until retirement. This means that you should not consider investing any monies in a PRSA that you may need in the short-term. You should be satisfied, therefore, that the long-term nature of this commitment fits in with your needs, resources, and circumstances before entering into a PRSA contract.

What happens if you cease making contributions?

One of the most important factors in determining the level of benefits that you will be able to enjoy in retirement is the total amount of contributions that you make to your PRSA. You can cease payment of contributions at any time, and you can subsequently recommence payment of contributions at any time. Although we will not impose any penalties or other charges should you choose to make no further contributions, you should be aware that if you were to cease making contributions, your retirement income would suffer accordingly and in the case of the Advice PRSA (Rebate), you would no longer be entitled to the refund of management charges described in the section Information on Charges. You should also be aware that the value of your PRSA in the early years might not exceed the total amount of contributions made.

2. Projected Level of Benefits

The benefits that will emerge from your PRSA will depend, in particular, on the level of your contributions, how long you pay those contributions, and the investment return achieved. The table below illustrates the projected benefits that might be obtained from this PRSA contract.

This table has been prepared assuming a term of 240 months, a retirement age of 65 and an initial contribution of €500 per month increasing each year at 3.0% per annum. The term, contribution, and charges assumed in preparing this Preliminary Disclosure Certificate are what Zurich Life expects to be typical of the contracts that we issue for this PRSA product.

We do not have sufficient information to produce a certificate that reflects your specific circumstances. Consequently, the level of contributions, projected benefits, and intermediary remuneration shown here may be misleading. If you accept the terms of the contract, we will subsequently send to you a Statement of Reasonable Projection that will reflect your specific circumstances. You will then have 30 days in which you may cancel the contract if you wish.

Maturity	161,222.25	128,008.19	289,230.44	243,061.74

Important: The projections shown above make no allowance for the effect of inflation, which will reduce the value of the projected benefits. The projected maturity value of €243,061.74 shown in the table is worth €134,577.39 in terms of current prices. This maturity value could purchase a retirement income for the rest of your life starting from that date of €486.50 per month in terms of current prices. Contributions are assumed to commence immediately. These illustrations assume an investment return before retirement of 6.0% per annum, and contribution escalation of 3.0% per annum. These rates are for illustration purposes only and are not guaranteed.

Actual investment growth will depend on the performance of the underlying investments and may be more or less than illustrated. The assumed retirement income is based on a single life annuity with 2.0% escalation, a 5-year guarantee period and payable monthly in advance for the duration of your life. The actual annuity rate will depend on the selection of dependant's pension, guaranteed period and the escalation rate, as well as interest rates prevailing when the annuity is purchased.

Warning: These figures are estimates only. They are not a reliable guide to the future performance of your investment.
Warning: The income you earn from this investment may go down as well as up.

3. Preparation of the Table of Benefits

The figures in the 'Table of Benefits' above were prepared in line with the Personal Retirement Savings Accounts (Disclosure) Regulations 2002 and Actuarial Standards of Practice ASP PRSA-2 of the Society of Actuaries in Ireland.

4. Warnings

It is important to make adequate provision for your retirement. At the date of this Certificate, the State Pension (Contributory) payable under the Social Welfare (Consolidation) Act 2005 to a single person who is qualified to receive the maximum rate amounts to €299.30 per week and equates to 29% of the latest yearly figure for gross average earnings as published by the Central Statistics Office for all industrial workers in all industries.

The value of your assets and, accordingly, the level of your benefits will depend upon the value of the underlying investments of the PRSA and the income that they earn. These values are not guaranteed and may fall from time to time as well as rise.

This PRSA is intended to provide benefits over the duration of your life from retirement, and it should be viewed as a long-term investment.

It is recommended that you seek professional financial advice about the nature of this PRSA before signing the PRSA contract.

Warning: If you have taken out this policy in complete or partial replacement of an existing policy, please take special care to satisfy yourself that this policy meets your needs. In particular, please make sure you are aware of the financial consequences of replacing your existing policy and of any possible financial loss as a result. If you are in doubt about this please contact your insurer or insurance intermediary.

5. Intermediary Remuneration

This remuneration is paid for by us from the charges that we make on your contract.

6. Information on Charges

Allocation percentage

An allocation percentage of at least 95% means that we levy a charge of at most 5% of each contribution. This charge is to cover administration and other expenses incurred by us in providing this PRSA to you.

The allocation percentage is the percentage of each contribution that will be used to buy units in Zurich Life PRSA funds and is at least 95% for your PRSA. The price of the units at the time the contribution is received will determine how many units are bought. The price will change in line with the value of the underlying assets. When a benefit is payable, the units will be sold at the then current price; in this manner, your PRSA will share in the investment performance of the relevant PRSA funds.

We may decrease the allocation percentage to allow for the effect of inflation on expenses, as measured by the Consumer Price Index or some other suitable index of inflation. We may also decrease the allocation percentage if there is a significant difference between the costs of maintaining existing contracts and the charges that we are recovering from these contracts.

We will inform you in writing at least two months before any change in the allocation percentage is made. If the allocation percentage is decreased, we will send you a Statement of Reasonable Projection when the change is made.

Management charge

A management charge of at most 1.75% per annum (excluding any additional charges applying to certain funds) means that we levy a charge of at most 1.75% per annum of the total value of your PRSA assets. This charge is to cover investment management and other expenses incurred by us in providing this PRSA to you.

The management charge is the percentage of your PRSA assets that we deduct and is at most 1.75% per annum for your PRSA. We deduct the management charge either directly from the PRSA funds or from your PRSA or by a combination of these methods.

There are additional charges applying to the range of funds below. Zurich Life deducts the additional management charge either directly from the fund or from your PRSA or by a combination of these methods.

We may increase the management charge to allow for the effect of inflation on expenses, as measured by the Consumer Price Index or some other suitable index of inflation. We may also increase the management charge if there is a significant difference between the costs of maintaining existing contracts and the charges that Zurich Life is recovering from these contracts.

We will inform you in writing at least two months before any change in the management charge is made. If the management charge is increased, we will send you a Statement of Reasonable Projection when the change is made.

Other ongoing costs

For your contract, the total effect of these charges on the benefits on maturity projected on page 9 is equivalent to a single charge of 1.7% per annum of the assets held under the contract.

Refund of management charges

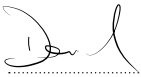

In the case of the Advice PRSA (Rebate) only, if you take your retirement benefits on or after your selected retirement date, your selected retirement date is at least 15 years after the start date, and you did not cease making contributions during any 13-month period, we will increase the benefit payable by refunding any management charges deducted from your contract in respect of regular contributions since the start date. We will not refund additional management charges levied on certain funds or other ongoing costs.

7. Cooling-off Period

This contract is not enforceable until a period of 30 days has elapsed from the date on which you are given a Statement of Reasonable Projection, and you may cancel this contract at any time during that period.

Contract Document

Introduction

This is a non-Standard Personal Retirement Savings Account. It is operated by Zurich Life Assurance plc (hereinafter called 'Zurich Life'), and is in the form of a contract between you and Zurich Life.

This document explains in detail the workings of your PRSA contract. It is important that you read each section of the document carefully to ensure that you understand what benefits apply in your case, what may affect these benefits, and what your options are under the contract.

The application form you have signed, together with all declarations and statements you have made, this Contract Document and the Contract Certificates form the contract between you and Zurich Life.

You are the beneficial owner of the PRSA assets. Zurich Life will pay the benefits to you or your legal representative(s) when the relevant event happens, subject to the conditions contained in the contract and the following provisions:

a. the contributions are paid as stated in the contract; and

b. all declarations and statements you have made are true.

The aim of this contract is the accumulation of a fund that can be used to provide benefits on your retirement.

So how does your contract work?

You will pay contributions to Zurich Life. You can use different methods to pay these contributions; every time that you use a different method, you will receive a Contract Certificate showing the charges and other details relating to that contribution payment method. A percentage of each contribution will be used to buy units on your behalf. These units will allow your contract to share in the investment performance of the chosen PRSA Fund(s). Some units may be taken from the contract to pay charges. These and other charges are described in Section Four - Charges.

In this document, certain words have been assigned certain meanings. Any reference to you or the second person applies to the owner of the contract. The term 'contribution' refers to either payments due to or payments received by Zurich Life under this contract. Any reference to a contribution paid by you includes a contribution paid by another party on your behalf, unless the context otherwise requires.

A regular contribution is one that you intend to pay routinely on a recurring basis. A once-off contribution is one that you do not intend to pay routinely on a recurring basis; the relevant Contract Certificate will state that the contribution is being made on a once-off basis, if such is the case.

This contract does not provide a defined benefit on retirement, and Zurich Life is not responsible for fulfilling any such benefit.

At the end of this document, there is a glossary of technical terms; any technical terms that arise in this document are printed in italics and explained in the glossary.

This document is divided into sections that contain the detailed description of how your contract operates.

In this document we have assigned certain meanings to words. Any reference to 'you' or the second person applies to the owner of the policy. Any reference to 'he' or the third person should be interpreted in the feminine where appropriate. Any reference to the 'Unit Fund' refers to a Zurich Life PRSA Fund. Any reference to the word "ARF" means Approved Retirement Fund.

At the end of this document there is a glossary of technical terms. Any technical terms that arise in this document are printed in italics and explained in the glossary.

Section One - Payment of Contributions

This section explains when your contributions can be paid.

Contribution Payment Methods

1. It is your responsibility to ensure contributions are received by Zurich Life. If your chosen contribution payment method is no longer in operation, you must contact Zurich Life to arrange payment by another, acceptable, contribution payment method.

2. You may use additional contribution payment methods to pay your contributions to Zurich Life. Each time you use an additional contribution payment method, you will receive a Contract Certificate relating to that contribution payment method.

3. A receipt for any contributions paid will not be valid unless it is on Zurich Life's printed form.

4. Your first contribution for each contribution payment method is due on the Contribution Start Date shown in the relevant Contract Certificate.

Ceasing of Approval

5. Zurich Life may refuse to accept any further contributions under this contract if it ceases to be approved by the Pensions Authority or the Revenue Commissioners.

Additional Voluntary Contributions

6. Please note that if you are a member of an approved or a statutory pension scheme, the only contributions to this contract that you will be entitled to tax relief on are additional voluntary contributions.

7. Before accepting any additional voluntary contributions under this contract, Zurich Life will check that the benefits payable are not likely to exceed the maximum benefits permitted by the Revenue Commissioners.

Payment of Contributions While in Receipt of Benefits

8. If you are in receipt of any benefits under Section Five - Benefits, you may still pay contributions to this contract.

Section Two – PRSA Funds

This section describes the operation of the PRSA Funds.

PRSA Funds

1. Zurich Life maintains PRSA Funds that are divided into units. Each unit of each PRSA Fund has a Price. The Price is that at which Zurich Life buys units of a PRSA Fund on your behalf and cancels units.

2. Each PRSA Fund invests in assets with the aim of increasing the value of the PRSA Fund and therefore its price. Zurich Life takes all decisions relating to the investments of PRSA Funds other than Mirror Funds. Where Zurich Life makes Mirror Funds available to your policy, these PRSA Funds are linked to assets managed by external investment specialists

3. Zurich Life can invest in any assets permitted by insurance law.

4. The SuperCAPP Fund differs from the other PRSA Funds in that the increase in value of its Price reflects dividends declared by the Head of Actuarial Function. This mechanism provides a smoothed distribution of Investment Earnings. There are limitations on the amount that can be invested in the SuperCAPP Fund; these limitations vary from time to time, and details are available on request from Zurich Life.

5. Each PRSA Fund will be credited with 100% of the Investment Earnings of the assets of that PRSA Fund. References to a PRSA Fund and units are made only for the purpose of calculating the value of your contract; the units are notional shares in each PRSA Fund, and the assets of each PRSA Fund belong to Zurich Life.

Calculation of Prices

6. Zurich Life will normally calculate the Price of each PRSA Fund every working day.

7. The Prices are determined by the Head of Actuarial Function, who will take into account the following factors separately for each PRSA Fund:

   (i) maintaining fairness between the different unit holders;

   (ii) the value of the assets in the PRSA Fund;

   (iii) the total number of units in the PRSA Fund;

   (iv) in the case of the SuperCAPP Fund, the interim and annual dividends declared.

8. With regard to (ii) above, the value of the PRSA Fund will be one of, or between, the following:

Maximum value: the estimated cost of acquiring the assets of the PRSA Fund less the estimated value of any liabilities.

Minimum value: the estimated net proceeds from selling the assets of the PRSA Fund less the estimated value of any liabilities.

9. In assessing the value, the Head of Actuarial Function will take the following into account:

   (i) the number of units created and cancelled since the PRSA Fund was last valued;

   (ii) expected future creations and cancellations of units in that PRSA Fund;

   (iii) other cash flows of the PRSA Fund; and

   (iv) the cost of buying or selling assets of the PRSA Fund.

10. The objectives of the assessment will be to maintain fairness between unit holders and to meet their Reasonable Expectations. This can lead to sudden changes in Price not related to market movements; Zurich Life, however, will not receive any charge from this process.

SuperCAPP Fund

11. The Price of the SuperCAPP Fund is determined by the Head of Actuarial Function and will allow for any interim dividends declared in respect of this PRSA Fund. Prices for the SuperCAPP Fund are guaranteed to never fall. However, under the direction of the *Head of Actuarial Functio*n, the value of your SuperCAPP units may be adjusted by a Market Level Adjustment in certain circumstances, such as there being a significant fall in stock market values or a period during which investment returns have been consistently lower than anticipated. In these circumstances, the value of your contract's holding in the SuperCAPP Fund may be higher than the market value of the underlying investments. A *Market Level Adjustmen*t will effectively reduce the Price of the SuperCAPP Fund and will only be applied to ensure that fairness is maintained between the different unit holders by taking into account the investment performance of the assets backing the PRSA Fund. Zurich Life will not receive any charge from applying a Market Level Adjustment.

12. Zurich Life will not apply a *Market Level Adjustmen*t to benefits taken from the Unit Account on your Selected Retirement Date or to the value of your Unit Account where it is paid out on your death. Zurich Life may apply a Market Level Adjustment to benefits taken at any other time. Any difference between the benefit payable and the value of the Unit Account after the application of any Market Level Adjustment is a cost that will be met by Zurich Life. The calculation of the value of the Unit Account is described in paragraphs 6 to 8 of Section Three - Unit Account.

13. During each calendar year, Zurich Life will declare the annual dividend of the SuperCAPP Fund for the preceding year. Before this declaration has been made, an interim dividend rate will be used in determining Prices. If the annual dividend differs from the interim dividend that was used, Zurich Life may adjust this contract to reflect the difference by one or both of the following methods:

   (i) adjusting the number of SuperCAPP units in the Unit Account; or

   (ii) taking account of the difference in calculating the Price for the PRSA Fund.

14. Whenever a benefit is payable under this contract, Zurich Life may add a Special Dividend, under the direction of the Head of Actuarial Function, to reflect the investment performance of the assets backing the SuperCAPP Fund. The Special Dividend rate is determined by the Head of Actuarial Function and is expressed as a percentage of the SuperCAPP Unit Account or such other method as the Head of Actuarial Function may determine to be equitable. The SuperCAPP Unit Account is the value of the part of the Unit Account that is attributable to units held in the SuperCAPP Fund. The calculation of the value of the Unit Account is described in paragraphs 6 to 8 of Section Three - Unit Account.

Deductions from PRSA Funds

15. Zurich Life will deduct from each PRSA Fund appropriate amounts in respect of the following:

    (i) all duties, taxes, and levies imposed by or under enactment incurred in the purchase, sale, and maintenance of investments;

    (ii) any irrecoverable withholding taxes on investment income;

    (iii) any fees or levies imposed by or under enactment that are deducted from PRSA assets;

    (iv) the costs involved in the purchase, sale, and maintenance of investments that are incurred on a competitive arm's-length basis;

    (v) the costs of routine property management of, and collection of rents due from, property investments that are incurred on a competitive arm's-length basis;

    (vi) interest incurred on a competitive arm's-length basis on money borrowed for the account of the PRSA Fund; and

    (vii) Zurich Life charges as described in Section Four - Charges.

Closing PRSA Funds

16. Zurich Life may from time to time create new PRSA Funds or change the nature of existing PRSA Funds. Zurich Life may also close existing PRSA Funds, and switch any units in the closing fund to one that is open. Zurich Life will inform you in writing before doing this.

17. The PRSA Funds that Zurich Life may create or close include PRSA Funds where Zurich Life makes all investment decisions and Mirror Funds that are linked to assets managed by external investment specialists.

Section Three - Unit Account

This section describes the operation and value of your Unit Account.

Unit Account

1. Units held at a point in time on your behalf are referred to as your Unit Account. The Unit Account will determine the value of your benefits.

Operation of the Unit Account

2. Units are bought at the Ruling Price(s) on the date each contribution is received.

3. For each contribution payment method, the Allocated Contribution is equal to the contribution paid under that contribution payment method multiplied by the Allocation Percentage, which is shown in the Contract Certificate for that contribution payment method.

4. Each Contract Certificate also shows the PRSA Fund(s) in which you have chosen to invest the contributions you pay under the relevant contribution payment method and the Fund Investment Percentage(s). For a given contribution, the number of units bought in each PRSA Fund is calculated by multiplying the Allocated Contribution by the Fund Investment Percentage for that PRSA Fund and dividing by the Ruling Price of the PRSA Fund.

5. Your Unit Account will be subject to charges by cancellation of units at the Price. These and other charges are described in Section Four - Charges.

Value of your Unit Account

6. The value of your Unit Account is the sum of the number of units of each PRSA Fund in your Unit Account multiplied by the respective Price of the units. The value of your Unit Account will be that calculated using the Price(s) of the PRSA Fund(s) next declared after Zurich Life has received satisfactory written notification that a benefit is payable.

7. If units held on your behalf include units of the SuperCAPP Fund, in certain circumstances, the value of your Unit Account may be adjusted by a Market Level Adjustment. For more information on Market Level Adjustments, please see paragraphs 11 and 12 of Section Two - PRSA Funds.

8. If a benefit is payable under this contract and units held on your behalf include units of the SuperCAPP Fund, a Special Dividend may be added to the value of your Unit Account. For more information on Special Dividends, please see paragraph 14 of Section Two - PRSA Funds.

Section Four - Charges

This section sets out the different types of charges made by Zurich Life.

Management Charge

1. Zurich Life will deduct a management charge expressed as a percentage of your Unit Account. The management charge will apply, therefore, to the Unit Account built up by any contributions made under Section One - Payment of Contributions and the Unit Account built up by any transfers of assets received from other pension arrangements under Section Nine - Free Options. The amount of the management charge for each contribution payment method is specified in the relevant Contract Certificate.

2. The management charge shown includes an allowance for any additional charges applicable to the SuperCAPP Fund or Mirror Funds.

3. Zurich Life will deduct the management charge either directly from the PRSA Funds or from your Unit Account or by a combination of these methods.

4. Zurich Life may increase the management charge to allow for the effect of inflation on expenses, as measured by the Consumer Price Index or some other suitable index of inflation.

5. Zurich Life may also increase the management charge if there is a significant difference between the costs of maintaining existing contracts and the charges that Zurich Life is recovering from these contracts.

6. Zurich Life will inform you in writing at least two months before any change in the management charge is made. If the management charge is increased, Zurich Life will send you a Statement of Reasonable Projection when the change is made.

7. The SuperCAPP Fund is subject to a management charge of 0.25% per annum. If you have chosen to invest in the SuperCAPP Fund at outset, this charge will be included on the relevant Contract Certificate. Zurich Life will deduct the extra management charge either directly from the SuperCAPP Fund or from your Unit Account or by a combination of these methods.

8. Mirror Funds may be subject to an additional management charge. If you have chosen to invest in a Mirror Fund at outset, this charge will be included on the relevant Contract Certificate. Details of the additional charges applicable to each Mirror Fund are available from Zurich Life. Zurich Life will deduct the extra management charge either directly from the Mirror Fund or from your Unit Account or by a combination of these methods.

Contribution Charge

9. If the Allocation Percentage for any contribution payment method is not equal to 100%, the difference between the Allocation Percentage and 100% is a charge made by Zurich Life. In other words, any difference between the contribution received and the Allocated Contribution is a charge.

10. Zurich Life may decrease the Allocation Percentage to allow for the effect of inflation on expenses, as measured by the Consumer Price Index or some other suitable index of inflation.

11. Zurich Life may also decrease the Allocation Percentage if there is a significant difference between the costs of maintaining existing contracts and the charges that Zurich Life is recovering from these contracts.

12. Zurich Life will inform you in writing at least two months before any change in the Allocation Percentage is made. If an Allocation Percentage is decreased, Zurich Life will send you a Statement of Reasonable Projection when the change is made.

13. An Allocation Percentage of 100% applies to any transfers of assets from other pension arrangements to this PRSA (see Section Nine - Free Options); there is, therefore, no contribution charge applying on such transfers.

Refund of Management Charges

14. Subject to paragraphs 15 to 17 below, for each contribution payment method, if the relevant Contract Certificate states that Refund of Management Charges applies and you have not drawn any benefits under Section Five - Benefits or transferred any assets to other pension arrangements under paragraph 4 of Section Nine – Free Options, Zurich Life will increase the value of your Unit Account on the relevant Selected Retirement Date by refunding any management charges deducted since the Start Date in relation to the contributions paid under that contribution payment method.

15. Zurich Life will not refund any additional management charges levied on contributions invested in the SuperCAPP Fund or any Mirror Funds.

16. For each contribution payment method, if Zurich Life does not receive any contributions from you in any 13 month period between the relevant Start Date and Selected Retirement Date, or if the relevant Selected Retirement Date is less than 15 years after the Start Date, Zurich Life will not refund any management charges relating to the contributions paid under that contribution payment method.

17. Zurich Life will not refund any management charges levied on the Unit Account built up by any once-off contributions or the Unit Account built up by any transfers of assets received from other pension arrangements under Section Nine - Free Options.

Section Five - Benefits

This section details the payment of your benefits.

Amount of Retirement Benefits

1. The value of your retirement benefits equals the value of your Unit Account; the calculation of the value of your Unit Account is described in paragraphs 6 to 8 of Section Three - Unit Account.

2. The value of your Unit Account may be increased by a Special Dividend. Benefits taken at a date other than your Selected Retirement Date may be subject to a Market Level Adjustment, as described in Section Two.

3. If you are an employee you may be able to take your retirement benefits earlier than your 60th birthday but no earlier than your 50th birthday. However to exercise this option there is a requirement under legislation that you are retired. If your occupation is one in which persons customarily retire before the age of 60, you may be able to take your retirement benefits earlier than your 60th birthday, but no earlier than your 50th birthday. However, you will not be able to draw any benefits from the part of your Unit Account built up by additional voluntary contributions, earlier than when you draw your benefits from the Main Scheme(s).

4. If you are an employee or your occupation is one in which persons customarily retire before the age of 60, you may be able to take your retirement benefits earlier than your 60th birthday, but no earlier than your 50th birthday. However, you will not be able to draw any benefits from the part of your Unit Account built up by additional voluntary contributions, earlier than when you draw your benefits from the Main Scheme(s).

5. Subject to providing Zurich Life with appropriate evidence, you may take your retirement benefits at any time, regardless of your age, if you become permanently incapable through infirmity of mind or body of carrying on your own occupation or any occupation of a similar nature for which you are trained or fitted, provided rules imposed by the Revenue Commissioners at that time are complied with.

Retirement Benefits

6. You may take your benefits under this section in any form allowed by legislation. The amount of benefit that you can take in certain forms and in certain circumstances is subject to rules imposed by legislation; the rules applying to additional voluntary contributions are different to those applying to other contributions. Before paying any benefits, Zurich Life will check with the Main Scheme(s) that the benefits do not exceed the limits imposed by legislation. These rules change from time to time, and details of Zurich Life's current understanding of the rules are available on request.

7. Provided rules imposed by the Revenue Commissioners at the time are complied with, you may choose a number of benefit options at your Selected Retirement Date, in one or more of the following forms:

(i) a Pension Lump Sum of up to 25% of the value of your Fund*

(ii) a Pension;

(iii) a contingent Pension payable to your spouse or other dependants on your death;

(iv) an Approved Retirement Fund;

(v) a Taxable Cash payment.

If you purchase an Annuity/Pension, the calculation of the annuity rate will depend on the prevailing market conditions and on the form in which you take benefits, in particular whether or not you choose a contingent Pension. Any Annuity/Pension purchased will be payable for your lifetime.

*This can be paid tax free subject to the current lifetime limit of tax free pension lump sums which is €200,000 with lump sums in excess of that limit between €200,000 and €500,000 being subject to tax at 20% and lump sums in excess of €500,000 being subject to marginal rate income tax.

8. Any benefits that you take in the form of pensions are not capable of being surrendered, commuted, or assigned in whole or in part.

Amount of Death Benefit

9. Zurich Life will pay the value of your Unit Account on proof of your death; the calculation of the value of your Unit Account is described in paragraphs 6 to 8 of Section Three - Unit Account.

10. If you have not drawn any benefits under paragraphs 3 to 5 above, the death benefit will be paid to your estate free of income tax; inheritance tax, however, will apply. If you have drawn any benefits under paragraphs 3 to 5 above, or if you have reached your 75th birthday, the death benefit will be taxed in a similar manner to the taxation of an Approved Retirement Fund on death; this death benefit is the value of your Unit Account after any lump sums have been paid out and any annuities or Approved Retirement Funds have been purchased.

Other Benefits

11. Apart from the circumstances outlined in paragraphs 3 to 6 above and otherwise than as provided in Part 30, Chapter 2A of the Taxes Consolidation Act, 1997 and Section 109 of the Pensions Act, 1990, Zurich Life will not pay the PRSA assets to you or your personal representatives.

Section Six - Annual Contribution Increases

This section explains the operation of annual contribution increases and when they apply.

1. For each contribution payment method, this section only applies if the relevant Contract Certificate states that annual contribution increases apply.

Increase in Contribution Due

2. At each anniversary of the Contribution Start Date, the contribution due will be increased by a rate in line with the annual percentage increase in the Consumer Price Index at that time.

3. You may choose not to take the increase in the contribution due or to take a lower or higher increase in the contribution due; otherwise, Zurich Life will increase the contribution due automatically. If you are not accepting the increase automatically, you must inform Zurich Life of your choice within three months of the increase being offered.

4. Zurich Life may offer higher or lower annual contribution increases.

No further increases

5. Zurich Life will not be obliged to offer any further annual contribution increases as stated in this section if you turn down two successive offers.

Section Seven - Investment Strategy

This section explains the different Investment Strategies available on this contract.

1. This section applies separately for each contribution payment method.

2. If the relevant Contract Certificate states that the Investment Strategy is DIS ARF, you have chosen to follow the Default Investment Strategy for that particular contribution payment method and intend to invest the retirement proceeds in an Approved Retirement Fund; paragraphs 6 to 8 below apply to the particular contribution payment method, and paragraphs 9 to 13 below do not apply.

3. If the relevant Contract Certificate states that the Investment Strategy is DIS Annuity, you have chosen to follow the Default Investment Strategy for that particular contribution payment method and intend to use the retirement proceeds to purchase an annuity; paragraphs 9 to 11 below apply to the particular contribution payment method, and paragraphs 6 to 8 and 12 to 13 below do not apply.

5. If the relevant Contract Certificate states that an Investment Strategy is not applicable, paragraphs 6 to 13 below do not apply to the particular contribution payment method.

Default Investment Strategy for those intending to invest in an ARF

6. With at least 25 years to go, contributions are invested in the Dynamic Fund; with at least 15 years to go, but less than 25, contributions are invested in the Performance Fund; and with less than 15 years to go, contributions are invested in the Balanced Fund. Details of these PRSA Funds are available on request from Zurich Life.

7. Five years before the relevant Selected Retirement Date, moneys invested in the Dynamic and Performance Funds will be gradually switched into the Balanced Fund. By the relevant Selected Retirement Date, the moneys will be invested 100% in the Balanced Fund.

8. From time to time, Zurich Life may review this Default Investment Strategy to ensure that it is still suitable for a typical investor. Zurich Life will inform you in writing before any change is made.

11. From time to time, Zurich Life may review this Default Investment Strategy to ensure that it is still suitable for a typical investor. Zurich Life will inform you in writing before any change is made.

PensionSTAR

12. The PRSA Fund in which PensionSTAR invests your contributions under the particular contribution payment method depends on the number of years to the relevant Selected Retirement Date. With at least 25 years to go, contributions are invested in the Dynamic Fund; with at least 15 years to go, but less than 25, contributions are invested in the Performance Fund; with at least 10 years to go, but less than 15, contributions are invested in the Balanced Fund; and with less than 10 years to go, contributions are invested in either the SuperCAPP or the Prisma 2 Fund. Details of these PRSA Funds are available on request from Zurich Life.

13. Ten years before the relevant Selected Retirement Date, monies invested in the Dynamic, Performance, and Balanced Funds will be gradually switched into the either the SuperCAPP or the Prisma 2 Fund. By the relevant Selected Retirement Date, the monies will be invested 100% in the SuperCAPP or the Prisma 2 Fund.

From time to time, Zurich Life may review PensionSTAR. Zurich Life will inform you in writing before any change is made.

Section Eight - Communication

This section details the different forms of communication that you will receive from Zurich Life.

Statement of Reasonable Projection

1. The Personal Retirement Savings Accounts (Disclosure) Regulations, 2002 require that a Statement of Reasonable Projection be sent to you in certain circumstances; the Statement of Reasonable Projection must show projected benefits that you could receive at retirement and earlier dates based on the current value of your Unit Account, assumed future contributions, and any other assumptions as specified in the Regulations. It also shows the current value of the State pension (contributory) as a percentage of gross average industrial earnings.

2. Zurich Life will send you a Statement of Reasonable Projection at least every twelve months; Zurich Life will also send you a Statement of Reasonable Projection if there is an increase in the number or amount of charges under any contribution payment method on this contract.

Statement of Account

3. A Statement of Account shows the total contributions paid since the commencement of this contract and the total contributions paid since the last Statement of Account, if any, was issued. The contributions paid are split between those paid by you and those paid by your employer, if any. Each Statement of Account also shows the current value of your Unit Account.

4. Zurich Life will send you a Statement of Account at least every six months.

Report on Investment Performance

5. A Report on Investment Performance details the performance of each PRSA Fund that your PRSA contract is invested in.

6. Zurich Life will send you a Report on Investment Performance at least every six months.

Section Nine - Free Options

This section explains the options that are available without charge on your contract.

Changing the contribution due

1. For each contribution payment method, if the relevant Contract Certificate states that Annual Contribution Increases apply, you have the option of paying an increased contribution, in excess of any annual contribution increases as described in Section Six - Annual Contribution Increases. There are limitations, however, on any increase in excess of the annual contribution increase offered by Zurich Life that can be invested in the SuperCAPP Fund; these limitations vary from time to time, and details are available on request from Zurich Life.

2. For each contribution payment method, you have the option of paying a reduced contribution. This reduced contribution must be at least €10 if paid electronically (including by direct debit) or €50 if paid by any other method. If the previous rule results in a minimum total contribution in a year under all contribution payment methods combined of more than €300, a minimum total contribution under all contribution payment methods combined in a year of €300 will apply instead.

Ceasing contribution payment

3. For each contribution payment method, you have the option of ceasing contribution payment at any time. The charges described under Section Four - Charges will continue to apply and you will continue to retain all your rights outlined in this Contract Document. You will lose your entitlement to the Refund of Management Charges, if any, described in paragraphs 14-17 of Section Four – Charges, for the relevant contribution payment method. You can recommence contribution payment at any time. If you recommence contribution payment more than 13 months after ceasing contribution payment, however, you will not regain your entitlement to the Refund of Management Charges, if any, described in paragraphs 14-17 of Section Four - Charges.

Transfers to other pension arrangements

4. You have the option of transferring the assets of this contract to another PRSA of which you are the contributor or an approved pension scheme of which you are a member, without any additional charge. You also have the option of transferring the assets to an arrangement for the provision of retirement benefits established outside Ireland, subject to such conditions as may be prescribed. These options also apply to any widow, widower, or dependant that has accrued rights under this contract. Zurich Life will apply taxation to the overseas transfer of PRSA assets where required to do so as per the prevailing pension legislation and Revenue guidance at the time of transfer.

Transfers from other pension arrangements

5. Subject to the agreement of the parties involved and compliance with the relevant legislation, this PRSA may receive transfers of assets, without any additional charge, from an approved or a statutory pension scheme, a personal pension scheme, certain overseas pension arrangements, or a PRSA in your name. It may also receive a refund of contributions from an approved or a statutory pension scheme of which you are a member, without any tax or additional charge.

Contribution Redirection

6. For each contribution payment method, you may effect four contribution redirections each year free of charge.

7. A contribution redirection is where you change the Fund Investment Percentages for the future contributions paid under a particular contribution payment method. The value of the existing Unit Account will be unaltered. The contribution redirection will take place when Zurich Life receives written confirmation of your instructions.

8. You may redirect future contributions into any of the range of PRSA Funds then available to your class of contract as determined by the Head of Actuarial Function. There are limitations, however, on the amount that can be invested in the SuperCAPP Fund; these limitations vary from time to time, and details are available on request from Zurich Life.

PRSA Fund Switch

9. For each contribution payment method, you may effect four PRSA Fund switches each year free of charge.

10. A PRSA Fund switch is where you move the value of some or all of your existing units to a different PRSA Fund or Funds. The units that you wish to switch will be replaced by units in the other PRSA Fund(s) chosen by you. The value of the units in your former choice of PRSA Funds (Source Funds) will be equal to the value of the units in your new choice of PRSA Funds (Destination Funds), except where a switch takes place out of the SuperCAPP Fund. In this case, a Special Dividend and/or a Market Level Adjustment may be applied to the Value of the SuperCAPP units.

    Where none of the Source Funds is a Two Stage Switch Fund and none of the Destination Funds is a Two Stage Switch Fund, the value of units will be based on the Price(s) of the PRSA Fund(s) calculated on the next Fund Valuation Date after Zurich Life has received written confirmation of your instructions.

    Where some or all of the Source and/or Destination Funds are Two Stage Switch Funds, the PRSA Fund switch will occur in two stages:

    (i) The units in the Source Funds will be transferred to the Temporary Account. The value of units moved will be based on the Price(s) of the PRSA Fund(s) in respect of the next Fund Valuation Date after Zurich Life has received satisfactory written confirmation of your instructions. The first stage of the switch will be completed on the day on which the relevant Price(s) become available.
    If any of the Source Funds is a Two Stage Switch Fund, there will be a delay between the relevant Fund Valuation Date(s) and when a Unit Price in respect of that date is known.

(ii) Once the first stage of the PRSA Fund switch has been completed, the value of units transferred into the Temporary Account will be used to purchase units in the Destination Funds on the next relevant Fund Valuation Date after the PRSA Fund switch set out in paragraph 10 part (i) above has been completed. The second stage of the switch will be completed on the day when the relevant Unit Price(s) becomes available.

If any of the Destination Funds are Two Stage Switch Funds, there will be a delay between the relevant Fund Valuation Date(s) and when a Unit Price in respect of that date is known.

11. You may switch units into any of the range of PRSA Funds then available to your class of contract as determined by the Head of Actuarial Function. There are limitations, however, on the amount that can be switched into or out of the SuperCAPP Fund; these limitations vary from time to time, and details are available on request from Zurich Life.

Statement of Reasonable Projection on request

12. Each year, you may request one Statement of Reasonable Projection in addition to any that you receive under Section Eight - Communication; this will be provided to you free of charge.

Section Ten - Other Options

This section explains the other options that are available on your contract at a charge.

Charge for other options

1. Zurich Life will levy a charge for each of the additional options described below based on the actual cost to Zurich Life of providing that option. Zurich Life will inform you in advance of the applicable charge when you request that an option be exercised.

2. Zurich Life will deduct the charge from your Unit Account; if the Pensions Authority or Revenue Commissioners do not allow Zurich Life to deduct the charge from your Unit Account, you must pay Zurich Life directly before the option can be exercised.

Contribution Redirection

3. You may make further contribution redirections in addition to those described in Section Nine - Free Options. The restrictions on redirections to the SuperCAPP Fund also apply to redirections under this paragraph.

PRSA Fund Switch

4. You may make further PRSA Fund switches in addition to those described in Section Nine - Free Options. The restrictions on switches to the SuperCAPP Fund also apply to switches under this paragraph.

Additional Statements of Reasonable Projection

5. Upon request, Zurich Life will send you a Statement of Reasonable Projection in addition to those described in Section Eight - Communication and Section Nine - Free Options.

Other options and services

6. Zurich Life may permit other options and services in addition to those specified above. Zurich Life will inform you in advance of the applicable charge when you request that such option or service be exercised.

Section Eleven - General Conditions

This section sets out the general conditions and rights that apply to your contract.

Rights of Cancellation

1. When your contract is issued, you will receive a Statement of Reasonable Projection; you may cancel your contract by returning your Contract Document with a signed cancellation notice to Zurich Life within 30 days of receipt of this Statement of Reasonable Projection. On receipt of the above, Zurich Life will refund all the contributions received by Zurich Life on your contract, and Zurich Life's liability for any benefits will cease.

2. Zurich Life will be entitled to make an adjustment to the refund of any once-off contributions to cover any benefits taken and any losses incurred by Zurich Life as a result of a fall in the value of the PRSA Funds in which these contributions were invested between the Contribution Start Date and the date Zurich Life receives your signed cancellation notice.

Notice to Zurich Life

3. You may notify Zurich Life of any fact relating to your contract in writing, by fax, electronically, or, subject to satisfactory identification, by telephone. For certain facts given by telephone, Zurich Life may require confirmation in writing.

4. Zurich Life will not be bound by any changes in the terms of your contract unless there is written confirmation from Zurich Life.

Notice from Zurich Life

5. Zurich Life will assume that any correspondence sent has been received by you, at the time it would have arrived at the address last notified to Zurich Life. You should notify Zurich Life immediately if you change your address. Where legislation permits it and you agree to it, Zurich Life may send correspondence to you electronically.

Currency

6. All moneys payable by or to Zurich Life will be payable in the currency of Ireland. All amounts payable by Zurich Life under this contract shall be payable at Zurich Life's Head Office.

Laws and Interpretation

7. Your contract shall be subject to the laws of Ireland.

Subsequent Legislation

8. If at any future time, as a result of current or subsequent legislation, the investment rights of Zurich Life are restricted or removed; it becomes impossible or impractical to carry out any or all of the procedures laid down in your contract; or a premium or additional tax, stamp duty, or levy is imposed, Zurich Life will have the right to make such adjustment in the basis of calculating the benefits under the contract as the Head of Actuarial Function will determine in accordance with your Reasonable Expectations.

Pensions Authority and Revenue Commissioners

9. This contract is approved by the Pensions Authority and the Revenue Commissioners under Section 94 of the Pensions Act, 1990, and it must comply with the provisions of Part 30, Chapter 2A of the Taxes Consolidation Act, 1997. No alterations to the terms of this contract will be permitted unless approved beforehand by the Pensions Authority and the Revenue Commissioners. No benefit payable from this contract shall be capable of being surrendered, commuted, or assigned except as permitted under Part 30, Chapter 2A of the Taxes Consolidation Act, 1997. The amount of any benefit payable may not exceed the maximum levels permitted by the Revenue Commissioners.

Payment of Benefit

10. Zurich Life shall pay any benefits under this contract as they become due, whether in Ireland or in any other member state of the European Union, net of any taxes and transaction charges that may be applicable.

11. If a benefit on this contract is not paid within 30 days of Zurich Life's receiving written notification that a benefit is payable, the amount payable will be increased in line with prevailing interest rates in respect of the period between the date of notification and the date of payment.

12. No benefit will be paid under your contract if you or anyone acting on your behalf uses any fraudulent means in order to obtain any benefit under your contract. In such an event, Zurich Life reserves the right to cancel your contract and take any actions as it shall deem proper.

13. In the event that you move to another country during the life of the policy, Zurich Life will make payments under the policy to the policy owner or beneficiary, save for special circumstances where Zurich Life can make payment to another party. These payments will be made by electronic funds transfer and to an account in the name of such policy owner or beneficiary located in the same jurisdiction as the policy owner or, as applicable, the beneficiary's tax residency. An exception to these restrictions may be granted the sole discretion of Zurich Life and after evaluation of the facts and circumstances. Under no circumstances will Zurich Life execute any policy related cash payments to US residents.

Information

14. You or your agents shall furnish to Zurich Life all such data, information, and evidence as Zurich Life may reasonably require relating to this contract. Zurich Life shall be entitled to act upon the data, information, and evidence so furnished. Zurich Life shall not be liable for any loss or consequential loss occurring as a result of any error, omission, or inaccuracy made by you or your agents in any data, information, or evidence so furnished.

Investment

15. Zurich Life or its agents shall not be liable for any loss or consequential loss or any depreciation in or default upon any of the investments of the PRSA Funds provided Zurich Life or its agents acted in good faith in the placing of those investments.

Further information on the SuperCAPP Fund

16. The SuperCAPP Fund is a Unitised With-Profits Fund that aims to deliver a regular return to policyholders consistent with prevailing medium-term interest rates while maintaining the potential for higher growth than a bank deposit account over time. Annual Dividends aim to provide policyholders with a steady accumulation of investment returns from year to year. A Special Dividend may also be paid on withdrawal of money invested in the Fund for five or more years. The Fund achieves this by investing in equities, bonds and cash and using other financial instruments that seek to mitigate some of the associated investment risk of those assets. The Fund's exposure to equity volatility is controlled by limiting maximum losses and gains for the majority of the equity portfolio.

17. In certain circumstances, such as a period of sustained negative market returns to the portfolio, encashment values may be reduced by the application of a Market Level Adjustment (MLA). An MLA may be applied to the entirety of the Fund or to one or more Cohorts of the Fund.

18. The Fund has an Inherited Estate which has been built up since the commencement of the Fund primarily from past early surrenders which did not qualify for a Special Dividend. The Inherited Estate will be used to avoid the application of an MLA if the Inherited Estate has the capacity to absorb the cost.

19. Further information regarding the principles that are used to manage the SuperCAPP fund can be found in the SuperCAPP With-Profits Operating Principles document. This is available online on the Funds section of our website (www.zurich.ie/with-profits).

Complaints and Disputes

20. If you are not satisfied in any way with this contract, please contact Zurich Life Customer Services. If Zurich Life is unable to satisfy your complaint, or if any disputes arise between you and Zurich Life, you have the right, under and in accordance with Part XI of the Pensions Act, 1990, to refer the complaint or dispute to the Financial Services & Pensions Ombudsman.

Residency

21. This contract has been designed for customers resident in Ireland. Should you move to another country during the life of the contract, mandatory laws and regulations of the jurisdiction where you move to may impact Zurich Life's ability to continue to service your contract in accordance with these terms and conditions. Please note in such circumstances Zurich Life may be required to amend your terms and conditions and Zurich Life may not be able to accept premium payments or process transaction requests (such as switch instructions). Should any such change be required Zurich Life will provide you with reasonable advance notice. If you are not happy with the changes you do have the right to request a transfer of the assets of this contract to another PRSA to which you are the contributor or to an approved pension scheme of which you are a member.

22. As Zurich Life is not in the position to provide any tax advice to customers, if you decide to live outside of Ireland after this policy has been issued we recommend that you obtain independent advice in relation to this policy on the tax consequences of changing your country of residency. Zurich Life rejects any responsibility or liability whatsoever for any adverse tax consequences that may arise in respect of your policy and/or any payments made under your policy as a result of you changing the country of residency.

Termination

23. If you move to another country during the lifecycle of your policy, you must notify us of such planned change prior to such change but no later than within 30 days of such change. Please note that you may no longer be eligible to make contributions to your policy. The local laws and regulations of the jurisdiction to which you move may affect our ability to continue to service your policy in accordance with these terms and conditions. Therefore, Zurich Life reserves the right to take any action it deems necessary in the circumstances.

Sanctions

24. All financial transactions are subject to compliance with applicable trade or economic sanctions laws and regulations. We will not provide you with any services or benefits including but not limited to acceptance of contributions, claims payments or other reimbursements, if in doing so we violate applicable trade sanctions laws and regulations.

25. We may terminate the policy if we consider you or your directors or officers as sanctioned persons, or you conduct an activity which is sanctioned, according to applicable trade or economic sanctions laws and regulations.

General adaptation right

26. Your insurance contract has been concluded based on the legal and regulatory requirements in force and applicable at the time of conclusion. Should the legal or regulatory requirements change, in particular if you change your country of residency, and if as a consequence Zurich Life is unable to perform our duties under the contract without potential adverse effect on us, Zurich Life is entitled to modify the contractual terms and conditions as we deem appropriate and at our discretion, or to take any other action we deem appropriate. Zurich Life is entitled to not make such changes if the changes in regulation would preclude Zurich Life to make such changes. Zurich Life will inform you about the changes in the contractual terms and conditions and the changes in regulation beforehand. The changes will become effective 30 days after the information has been sent to you.

Appendix - Glossary of technical terms

An explanation follows of technical terms found in this document; these terms have been printed in italics during the course of this document.

Additional Voluntary Contributions (AVCs)
These are contributions that are made by a member of an approved or statutory pension scheme - the Main Scheme - in addition to any contributions that he or she is obliged to make under the rules of the Main Scheme. Additional voluntary contributions are often used to fund for benefits that are in addition to those provided by the Main Scheme.

Allocated Contribution
This is the part of a contribution that is used to purchase units. It is described in more detail in Section Three - Unit Account.

Approved Retirement Fund (ARF)
This is a fund that certain individuals can invest in upon retirement. Withdrawals can be made from it at any time.

Consumer Price Index
This is the official index of price inflation published by the Central Statistics Office of Ireland. It is an index of the relative prices of a standard 'basket of goods' over a period. If the index ceases to be published or suitable, Zurich Life will use another, equivalent, index.

Default Investment Strategy
A Default Investment Strategy is designed to fulfil the Reasonable Expectations of a typical investor for the purposes of saving for retirement. The Default Investment Strategy will be chosen for you if you make no choice about your investment preference. The Default Investment Strategy is an automatic mechanism that gradually transforms your PRSA from a higher-risk portfolio to a lower-risk portfolio as you approach retirement. Details of how it works are given in Section Seven - Investment Strategy.

Fund Investment Percentage
This is the percentage of an Allocated Contribution that will be invested in a particular PRSA Fund.

Fund Valuation Date
This is any day on which the Prices of PRSA Funds are calculated by Zurich Life.

Head of Actuarial Function
Every life assurance company is required by Irish Law to have an Head of Actuarial Function. The Head of Actuarial Function has statutory and professional duties in respect of Zurich Life and its policyholders. Reference to the Head of Actuarial Function includes suitable persons acting on the instructions of the Head of Actuarial Function.

Investment Earnings
These are all income and capital gains from an asset.

Main Scheme(s)
If you make or have made additional voluntary contributions to this PRSA, the approved or statutory pension scheme under the rules of which, or in association with which, you make or have made these contributions is the Main Scheme.

Mirror Funds
These are Unit Funds established by Zurich Life to allow you to invest in funds managed by external investment specialists.

Market Level Adjustment
This is a reduction in the value of SuperCAPP units to ensure equity between unit holders, taking into account the investment performance of the assets backing the SuperCAPP Fund. It may be applied, as directed by the Head of Actuarial Function, in certain circumstances. It is described in more detail in paragraphs 11 and 12 of Section Two - PRSA Funds.

Reasonable Expectations

This is a term used by the actuarial profession that implies fair treatment of clients from an informed actuarial point of view.

Ruling Price(s)
These are the Prices of the PRSA Funds established on the date in question or, in the event that the date in question is not a Fund Valuation Date, the Prices established at the previous Fund Valuation Date.

Two Stage Switch Fund
Some of the PRSA Funds available to your policy are Two Stage Switch Funds. For these PRSA Funds, a PRSA Fund switch will occur in two stages as explained in Section Nine, paragraphs 9 to 11. Information on whether a PRSA Fund is a Two Stage Switch Fund is available from Zurich Life.
