Allianz Vantage ARF (D)

This document is divided into sections to facilitate reading and understanding.

The title of each section indicates its respective content.

SECTION A - INFORMATION ABOUT THE POLICY

Taking out an Approved Retirement Fund (ARF) policy is an important decision and it is important that you understand the details of the policy before entering into it. The purpose of this document is to provide that information to you.

Every care has been taken to ensure that the information in this booklet is clear and accurate. However, no responsibility is taken for errors or omissions. If any conflict arises between this booklet and the Policy Conditions, the Policy Conditions will apply. Policy Conditions will be supplied to you when your policy is issued.

If, when you receive your ARF policy, you feel that it is not suitable for your needs then you may cancel it by instructing us in writing and returning the policy documents to us. The policy will terminate immediately on receipt of this instruction at Allianz Global Life's Office. If it is received not later than 30 days after the date of issue of the policy documents then any single contributions remitted to Allianz Global Life will be refunded to the pension arrangement from where they came, less an adjustment for any downward movement in unit prices between the date of commencement and the date of cancellation.

The laws of Ireland govern this contract.

Allianz Global Life will try to fully resolve any complaints to your satisfaction. An independent complaints body exists through the office of the Financial Services and Pensions Ombudsman. Decisions of the Financial Services and Pensions Ombudsman are binding on both parties subject to a right of appeal to the High Court. Details of the service provided by the Financial Services and Pensions Ombudsman may be obtained from www.fspo.ie, your advisor or Allianz Global Life.

1. Make sure the policy meets your needs

An ARF policy is a single contribution unit-linked investment policy, set up under Irish tax legislation. It provides a method of investing the proceeds of your retirement plan to provide withdrawals or regular income when you need them. Its primary purpose is, therefore, to provide a source of regular income in retirement. On your death, any remaining value of your ARF is available and can be left in your will as part of your estate. Alternatively it can be transferred into an ARF in your spouse's name.

Your policy has no fixed term, which means that you can leave your money invested for as long as you require. The policy will terminate on payment of a death benefit, or when all the units have been encashed.

Allianz Global Life ARF policies are unit linked. This means that the contributions (after the deduction of charges) are invested in your choice of Allianz Global Life's unit-linked funds. The policy value at any time depends on the performance of those unit-linked funds. The unit-linked funds available to you from Allianz Global Life are managed funds that invest in a broad selection of assets, which may include stocks and shares (equities), both in Ireland and overseas, government securities (gilts), corporate bonds, property, cash and commodities.

Your insurance adviser will be able to help you choose the funds most appropriate to your needs.

At any time you can decide to switch your investments between any of the range of funds available to you (subject to some restrictions around the investment guarantee, if chosen). Further information is contained in the policy conditions. No tax liability crystallises on switching between funds or switching on/off the optional investment guarantee.

As described above, the value of your policy depends on the performance of the unit-linked funds you choose to invest in. In general, the value is not guaranteed. However, three of the funds available on your ARF do offer optional rolling one-year guarantees. If selected, this will provide you with guarantees that will limit the investment risk on your ARF. The guarantees are described in more detail in section 5 below.

WARNING.

If you propose to take out this policy in complete or partial replacement of an existing policy, please take special care to satisfy yourself that this policy meets your needs. In particular, please make sure that you are aware of the financial consequences of replacing your existing policy. If you are in doubt about this, please contact your insurer or insurance intermediary.

2. What happens if you want to cash in the policy early or stop paying contributions?

You can normally encash part or all of your ARF policy at any time. The encashment value (before tax) at any point in time will be the value of the units allocated less any exit charge (i.e. surrender penalty). An exit charge may apply, which will be detailed in your Policy Schedule. An exit charge will not be applied on death.

If you have selected the optional investment guarantee, and you decide to encash your policy before the guarantee maturity date, any potential benefits arising from the guarantee will not be taken into account when determining the encashment value of your policy.

You can also set up a regular income (in accordance with the Policy Conditions), which can be paid directly into your bank account. The income is withdrawn from your ARF and (in accordance with the Policy Conditions) will not be subject to an early exit charge (limited to 10% per annum).

All withdrawals and income payments are subject to income tax and PRSI under the PAYE system. Allianz Global Life will make the appropriate deduction and remit it to the Revenue Commissioners on your behalf. The policy terminates when all the units are encashed, or when a death benefit has been paid.

WARNING.

If you choose to encash some or all of your units, the value payable may be less than the amount of contributions paid.

3. What are the projected benefits under the policy?

The illustrative table below shows possible future values for an ARF policy. This illustration is based on the following details:

IMPORTANT.

THESE ILLUSTRATIONS ASSUME A RETURN OF 5.73% PER ANNUM. THIS RATE IS FOR ILLUSTRATION PURPOSES ONLY AND IS NOT GUARANTEED.

ACTUAL INVESTMENT GROWTH WILL DEPEND ON THE PERFORMANCE OF THE UNDERLYING INVESTMENTS AND MAY BE MORE OR LESS THAN ILLUSTRATED.

The deductions for charges shown in column C have the same effect as reducing the assumed investment growth from 5.73% to 4.34%. The illustration uses the current level of charges taken by the fund manager, which may vary in the future. Further details are available in the Schedule of Fees and Charges. The income figures in column D and the policy value figures in column E are shown gross of tax.

This illustration assumes a monetary income amount that increases each year. As a result, the fund depletes over time. Under these assumptions your policy would become fully depleted in year 27, at which point the policy will terminate. Where the income you choose is higher relative to the size of your fund, or the investment return achieved by your fund is lower, the fund may become depleted earlier.

Similarly, the charges in Column C assume that the investment guarantee is switched on throughout. However, if you decide to switch off at some point in the future, the total charges will be lower than shown.

The single contribution payable for your policy will include all charges and intermediary/sales remuneration.

IMPORTANT.

THESE ILLUSTRATIONS ASSUME A RETURN OF 3.20% PER ANNUM. THIS RATE IS FOR ILLUSTRATION PURPOSES ONLY AND IS NOT GUARANTEED.

ACTUAL INVESTMENT GROWTH WILL DEPEND ON THE PERFORMANCE OF THE UNDERLYING INVESTMENTS AND MAY BE MORE OR LESS THAN ILLUSTRATED.

The deductions for charges shown in column C have the same effect as reducing the assumed investment growth from 3.20% to 1.83%. The illustration uses the current level of charges taken by the fund manager, which may vary in the future. Further details are available in the Schedule of Fees and Charges. The income figures in column D and the policy value figures in column E are shown gross of tax.

It is important to understand that where amounts are withdrawn from your ARF, the value of your investment will reduce and could run out, particularly if a high level of income is taken, returns from investment markets are poor or if you live a long time.

Under these assumptions the fund value becomes depleted in year 20 at which point the policy will terminate.

4. What Intermediary Remuneration and Sales Remuneration is payable?

The projected remuneration figures below are based on the policy details outlined earlier. The remuneration depends on fund size, and so varies depending on the investment return achieved by your ARF policy.

5. Are returns guaranteed and can the contribution be reviewed?

In general, returns from your ARF policy are not guaranteed, and its future value will be determined by the rate of investment growth achieved.

However, where you invest in the Allianz Strategy Select 30, Allianz Strategy Select 50 or Allianz Strategy Select 75 funds, you can elect to apply an optional guarantee provided by the Company. If elected, these guarantees protect your policy based on the value of assets held within the relevant fund on a rolling one-year basis. The funds, guarantee levels and guarantee charges are shown below.

Fund	Guarantee Level	Guarantee charge (p.a.)
Allianz Strategy Select 30	93%	0.65%
Allianz Strategy Select 50	90%	0.75%
Allianz Strategy Select 75	85%	0.85%

The guarantee applies at the next policy anniversary after the point that you elect to apply it. This means that the value of your assets that remain invested in the relevant fund for the following year will be at least at the guarantee level at the end of that one year period.

For example, in the case of the Allianz Strategy Select 50 fund, if you elect to apply the guarantee, the value of the assets that remain invested in that fund one year after applying the guarantee, will be at least 90% of the value at the point that the guarantee is applied. If the value of your investment in that fund is below this level at the guarantee date, AGL will provide a payment into your policy to bring the value up to the guaranteed level. Withdrawals over the period would reduce the assets invested in the fund, but the guarantee would continue to apply proportionately in respect of the assets remaining. The guarantee is funded by an additional annual charge, which in the case of the Allianz Strategy Select 50 fund is 0.75% per annum.

The structure is identical for the Allianz Strategy Select 30 and 75 Funds, but the guarantee levels and guarantee charges differ as set out in the table above.

Note that, where you have elected to apply the rolling one-year guarantee as described above, the guarantee would also apply to the death benefit on your policy if you died during the guarantee period.

6. Can the policy be cancelled or amended by the reinsurer?

Allianz Global Life reserves the right, in the event of changes in taxation or other legislation affecting your policy, to make such amendments as in the Actuary's opinion are necessary to take account of such changes.

7. Information on taxation issues.

The funds your ARF policy invests in grow free of capital gains tax and income tax. Any encashment or income drawn from the policy is subject to income tax. The appropriate amount will be deducted from your income by Allianz Global Life and remitted to the Revenue Commissioners on your behalf.

For tax purposes an actual or imputed withdrawal must be made each year from your ARF.

If you die while the policy is in force, the tax treatment of your policy depends on the relationship between yourself and the person who it is transferred to. Due to the individual nature of each case, we recommend that you establish all tax implications with your professional advisers.

SECTION B - SERVICE FEE

Occasionally policyholders have an arrangement with their insurance advisor, which involves the payment of a service fee to the advisor. Your advisor should enter details of any such arrangement here:
